QUARTER SYSTEM - BIG ADVANTAGE FOR THE STUDENT-ATHLETE

Louisiana Tech has a unique advantage of being on the quarter system as opposed to the semester system. The quarter system provides significant advantages for the students:

- ☆ Lighter workload (take 3 classes instead of 5)
- ☆ Shorter academic sessions (12 weeks instead of 18)
- ☆ More frequent breaks during and between academic sessions
- ☆ More opportunities to withdraw or drop a class and still remain TOPS eligible

Adriano de Souza enters his fourth season at the helm of the Louisiana Tech women's volleyball program and has led the Lady Techsters to steady improvement during his time in Ruston.

De Souza took over the program in 2012 and strung together a few rebuilding years in his first three years at LA Tech with the Lady Techsters improving in the win column in each season.

In 2014, the Brazilian native guided LA Tech to a 9-21 overall record and 1-15 mark in Conference USA play. For the first time since 2009, the Lady Techsters placed a student-athlete on an all-conference squad with senior Rebecca Redgen being named Second Team All-Conference USA after ranking fifth in C-USA in both kills and points. Redgen also led all Lady Techsters in kills (381), kills per set (3.74) and points (419.5).

De Souza entered the 2013 season with a rebuilt roster and plenty to prove as a team as LA Tech was a first-year member of Conference USA. Although the Lady Techsters put together a 7-22 season, including a 1-13 mark in league play, de Souza led his team to a handful of impressive feats in 2013 with a plethora of underclassmen on the roster and just one senior.

For the first time since 2010, LA Tech defeated a conference opponent as the Lady Techsters prevailed against Conference USA foe Charlotte, 3-1, on Oct. 4, 2013 in Charlotte, a victory that also marked LA Tech's inaugural win as a member of C-USA in any sport. The win snapped a 34-match conference losing streak for LA Tech that dated back to the end of the 2010 season when LA Tech defeated then WAC foe Nevada in five sets.

In early 2012, Louisiana Tech announced the hiring of de Souza, a longtime Division I assistant coach, from Illinois State as the ninth head coach in Lady Techster volleyball history. In his inaugural season, de Souza's squad compiled a 3-27 record on the court.

De Souza, a native of Sao Paulo, Brazil, replaced Matt Sonnichsen, who resigned following the 2011 season after four years at the helm of the program. The 42-year-old has brought a wealth of both collegiate and international coaching experience to Ruston, as well as recruiting ties in both the U.S. and overseas.

De Souza's coaching resume spans 19 years and boasts stints at the club, high school and collegiate levels, including assistant coaching positions at Illinois State, Miami (OH) and Kent State over the course of his career.

Before coming to LA Tech, de Souza spent the previous four years as an assistant coach at Illinois State where he helped rebuild the Redbirds program, leading it to the semifinals of the Missouri Valley Tournament two straight years.

Prior to his time in Normal, Illinois, de Souza furthered his reputation by serving on the staff at Miami (OH) for three seasons from 2005-07 where he was instrumental in helping the RedHawks reach the 2007 NCAA Tournament after capturing the Mid-American Conference Tournament title that season. Two of Miami's wins that season came against nationally-ranked Ohio, the four-time defending conference champion. The only other team in the country to sweep the Ohio Bobcats in 2007 was national runner-up Stanford.

In de Souza's first season at Miami in 2005, the RedHawks recorded the most wins (17) since the 1998 Mid-American Conference championship team went 27-8. In 2006, Miami finished fourth in the MAC regular-season race, the RedHawks' best finish since 2000.

De Souza was a volunteer assistant at Kent State in both the 2003 and 2004 seasons, while completing his master's degree in sports pedagogy. He also volunteered as an assistant coach with the boys' volleyball team at Stow (Ohio) High School in 2004, and as the head coach of the Club Q Sport 17's team in 2004-05.

Prior to de Souza's time in Ohio, his coaching career in the U.S. started with two years as the head women's volleyball coach at Union College while he took postgraduate courses. In his first head coaching stint, de Souza led the Bulldogs to a second-place finish in the Mid-South Conference and the program's first NAIA regional appearance in his final season in Kentucky (2002).

De Souza, originally from Brazil, a country with a great volleyball history and tradition, began playing the sport at the age of 14. He spent three years (2001-03) as the volleyball coach and co-administrator for two men's teams in the city of Rio Claro, Brazil. His under-21 men's team was the regional runner-up all three years, while his under-19 men's team was the APV League Champion in 2001, and posted a runner-up finish in 2002. In 1999, de Souza mentored the under-21, under-19 and under-16 women's programs at Club Regatas in Campinas, Brazil, before coming to the U.S. to begin his Division I coaching career.

He also served a three-year stint as the head men's volleyball coach at the State University of Campinas (1995-97), where his team won sectional championships in 1996 and 1997, finished second at the Metropolitan Championships in 1995 and 1996, and placed third in 1997.

Since 2001, Adriano has worked with Antonio Rizola, the head coach of the Brazilian Junior National Team, in developing methods to improve players' game intelligence in preparation for South American and World Championships. In 2007, he volunteered for the Brazilian Youth National Team when it competed at the World Championship in Mexico.

He has also been a liaison and interpreter for the U.S. Women's National Team (1994) and Japanese National Junior Team (1993) in their respective visits to world championships in Brazil.

De Souza has co-authored numerous books and articles on sports and coaching. He graduated with his bachelor's degree from Universidade Estadual de Campinas in Sao Paulo, Brazil in December 1997, and completed his master's degree at Kent State in May 2006.

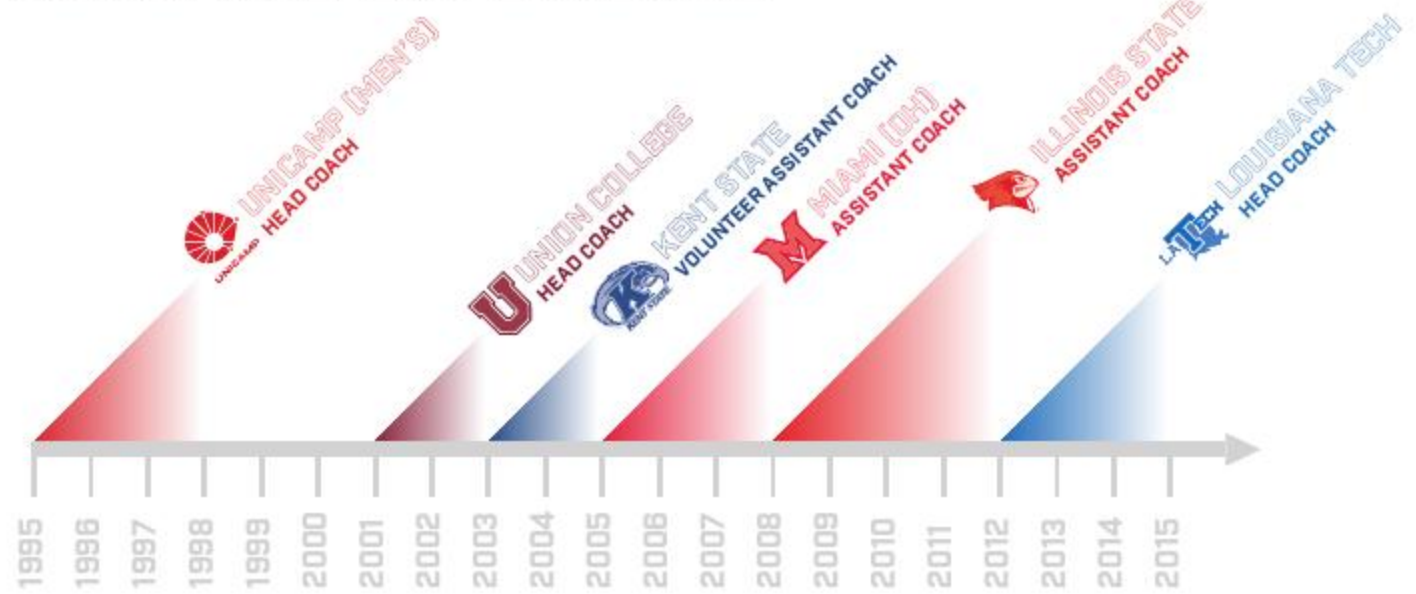
DE SOUZA
COACHING EXPERIENCE



Head coach Adriano de Souza has announced the addition of Rachel Williams to the Louisiana Tech family as an assistant volleyball coach for the upcoming 2015 season.

A former four-year starter at the University of Arizona, Williams brings more than 10 years of coaching and recruiting experience to the Lady Techster volleyball program. Williams enters her first season in Ruston after spending last season as an assistant coach at Northern Arizona, where she was responsible for pre- and post-match film breakdowns, weekly match analysis and court training among other duties.

"I am really happy to welcome Rachel to our staff," de Souza said. "She brings the work ethic, the knowledge of the game and the passion for competition that will be an excellent example for our volleyball players. Her experience playing at a high level and her coaching approach will be a great addition to our staff."

In just one season at Northern Arizona, Williams helped guide the Lumberjacks to their best record in school history with a 21-8 overall mark, including an 11-5 record in league play and a semifinals appearance in the Big Sky Conference tournament. With Williams on staff, NAU racked up the third most wins in program history and ranked first in the conference in hitting percentage, opponent hitting percentage, assists and blocks during the 2014 season.

"I am excited about this opportunity to coach at Louisiana Tech," Williams said of joining the Lady Techsters. "I know Adriano has a vision for the program and I believe that we have the support and the resources here in Ruston to accomplish big tasks."

With more than 10 years of experience on the court, Williams joins the Lady Techster staff after coaching at a variety of levels. Prior to her time at NAU, she spent two years as an assistant coach at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University after serving as an assistant coach for two seasons at Yavapai College from 2011-12. Previously, Williams was also an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Point Loma Nazarene University in San Diego, California, where the Sea Lions ended the season fifth in the nation (NAIA).

While coaching at the collegiate level in Northern Arizona, Williams spent three years as the club director for Yavapai Juniors Volleyball Club in Prescott, Arizona. While there, she was responsible for all aspects of the club, along with guiding the squad to some of the best finishes in club history on any given level.

From 2008-09, Williams was a sports ambassador for People to People – an organized student travel program – in a role which allowed her to travel internationally to Holland and Austria with student-athletes for both educational and athletic purposes.

Prior to joining the coaching circuit, Williams played college volleyball at the University of Arizona from 1999-2002 and was a member of four Wildcat NCAA teams. She helped Arizona reach the Sweet 16 in 1999, the Elite Eight in 2000 and 2002 and earned a trip to the NCAA Final Four in 2001. Williams was also a key component to the Wildcats' success in 2000 when she helped lead Arizona to a Pac-10 Championship title.

Williams earned her bachelor's degree in communication with an emphasis in marketing in 2003 from Arizona before earning her master's in coaching and athletic administration from Concordia University-Irvine in 2012.

Former Louisiana Tech volleyball player Gabryel Ording enters her third season on the LA Tech coaching staff after joining the Lady Techsters for the 2013 season as an assistant coach.

"I am happy to welcome Gabryel Ording back to Louisiana Tech University as one of our assistant coaches," de Souza said. "Her return to Louisiana Tech Volleyball is a great asset for our program. She has the values and the mindset that I look for in assistant coaches".

Ording completed her senior season and earned her bachelor's degree from Louisiana Tech in kinesiology in November 2012.

Over the course of her time at Louisiana Tech, Ording lettered all four years and was also the volleyball program representative in the SAAC (Student Athlete Advisory Committee).

Ording has now returned to Louisiana Tech to continue using her work ethic and knowledge to continue the development of the Lady Techster Volleyball Program.

While a student-athlete at Louisiana Tech, Ording was not only always prepared for all the practices and matches she competed in, but she was also a leader who contributed to the organization and development of the program on and off the court, de Souza added.

"To the benefit of our student-athletes, Gabryel will continue to be a great example of responsibility and dedication to our program."

A clean slate. That is what the Louisiana Tech Volleyball team is looking to start with heading into the 2015 season.

In years past, it was a matter of putting together a complete match from beginning to end. But now, heading into year four under head coach Adriano de Souza, the culture of the program is changing and the Lady Techsters are looking to strike the perfect balance between experience and lack thereof on the court as they embark on a new season.

"Fifty percent of our lineup could include new players this season and the more they understand how to make each other more efficient on the court, the better we will be," de Souza said.

De Souza has never shied away from the task of rebuilding the LA Tech Volleyball program since taking the job in 2012. An improvement in the win column in each of his three previous seasons at the helm shows progress for a team that hasn't enjoyed a winning season in more than a decade.

But this year's roster enters the 2015 campaign with renewed energy and determined to start anew. Four newcomers, three of which are freshmen, should help contribute to that process.

"We have a fresh group with fresh ideas," de Souza said of the new-look Lady Techsters. "Our newcomers have been drilled with the idea of how important it is for them to contribute right away. The four of them have demonstrated that they can make a positive impact on our team and we will make sure to give them responsibilities in the lineup early in the season.

Although LA Tech lost just two starters from the 2014 squad, both players were key contributors on both sides of the net. Rebecca Redgen led the team in kills last season and was a second team All-Conference USA selection, while Emilee Dechant stood out on the defensive side of things with a team-high 64 total blocks.

But despite those two absences, the Lady Techsters return eight letterwinners from a year ago, including two seniors and four juniors, to heighten the experience on this year's squad. Of the eight returners, five will see a significant amount of playing time throughout the season.

"Our returners have a lot responsibility this year," de Souza said. "They have seen what needs to be done in practice and matches to continue improving our program. We count on them to set the tone of what we do on and off the court in our program.

"In the end, we need points on the scoreboard to be more successful in sets and matches. Because of the type of players we are training with now, this season we will have the opportunity to develop our serve receive, defense and blocking side of the game. The goal in improving these aspects is for our setters to have a better chance to run a more efficient offense."

The goal for LA Tech has always been improvement, which is what de Souza and his staff, which includes first year assistant Rachel Williams as well as former Lady Techster Gabryel Ording, who is now in her third year coaching, have been preaching since Day 1.

And a clean slate seems like a perfect way to start that transformation.

HITTERS/BLOCKERS

LA Tech enters the season with a combination of seven outside, middle and right-side hitters in the mix with senior Helena Gunnarsdóttir, juniors Angela Papach and Hannah Wright, and redshirt sophomore Marta Monne all returning on offense for the Lady Techsters.

Gunnarsdóttir totaled 149 a season ago in her first season at Tech after transferring from Lee College. The Iceland native averaged 1.60 kills per set, while also recording 128 digs and 25 blocks for the Lady Techsters in 2014. Other veterans expected to be difference makers for LA Tech this season include Papach, Monne and Wright, all of who have contributed to the attack in past years.

"Angela and Marta, who are both outside and right-side attackers, are returning for their third year in our program and are expected to bring experience at the pins and in our serve receive, blocking and defensive game," de Souza said.

"Hannah (Wright) is the only middle blocker and attacker who returns from last season. She has had a very good spring season and is expected this year to excel not only in the middle position but also on the right side of the net."

In addition to the returners, Tech will welcome the addition of Natalie Leui, Alexa Lister and Hannah McRee to add more height and depth to the position.

"Alexa, Natalie and Hannah McRee will see time in the middle and on the right side during season," he said. "I expect them to quickly learn what the competition will demand from them."

SETTERS

For the first time in his tenure as head coach, de Souza and the Lady Techsters return multiple setters with matches under their belts, which will allow for more variety in the team's offensive systems.

"We will have Adria [Morales] as a returning setter and right-side [hitter]," he said. "Brooke [Short] returns for her second year as a setter for our team and will be a great contributor this year as she now understands more of what Conference USA competition demands from the setters who are running their teams on the floor. Her game improvement will allow us to run different 5-1 line ups as well as 6-2 lines line ups."

Morales, who is entering her senior season, led LA Tech last season with 479 assists (6.14 per set), while also adding to the offensive attack with 122 kills and 18 service aces in her first season with the squad. Short also returns as a sophomore setter after ranking second on the team last season with 274 assists and an average of 3.81 per game.

DEFENSIVE SPECIALISTS/LIBEROS

With LA Tech intent on improving its serve receive and defensive games over the course of the 2015 season, experience should be a welcome relief when it comes to defensive specialists and libero's on this year's team.

Aviles led the Lady Techsters with 360 digs (3.83 per set) as a sophomore last season, while also ranking third on the team with 17 service aces from behind the line. Jacie McClure also returns for her sophomore season after recording 156 digs in 72 sets as a true freshman in 2014.

In addition to Aviles and McClure's returns to the court, LA Tech welcomes Jessica Kaeka to the position this season. A native of Lakewood, California, Kaeka is a true freshman who de Souza thinks will greatly improve the defensive aspect of LA Tech's game.

"Jessica (Kaeka) is a great addition to our serve receive, defense and serving game," he said. "On the back row, we return Alejandra Aviles and Jacie McClure. They both have been training a lot during the offseason and understand that improvements on our serve receive and our defensive systems are the key factors in order to have a better season in conference and non-conference matches."

2015 SLATE

LA Tech enters its third season as a member of Conference USA and is one of 13 teams participating in the league in 2015. The Lady Techsters are set to play a 16-match conference schedule, while competing against each team at least once and four of the league's teams in a home-and-home series. The season-ending conference tournament is set for Nov. 20-22 in San Antonio, Texas, and will feature the league's top eight teams from the regular season.

"Our non-conference schedule has been tailored in a way that we can play against teams that will bring us opportunities to see what we are doing well in the game and also show us what we need to improve before we start our Conference USA competition," de Souza said.

Following two tournaments on the road to open the season, the Lady Techsters return to Ruston for the 2015 home opener Sept. 11 with LA Tech set to host its home invitational for the third consecutive year. This year's tournament will feature a total of six matches over the course of two days between ULM, Lamar, Southern and Tech.

De Souza and the Lady Techsters open the 2015 C-USA schedule by hosting the Golden Eagles from Southern Miss Monday, Sept. 21 before hitting the road for a three-game conference road trip to WKU (Sept. 25), Marshall (Sept. 27) and Middle Tennessee (Oct. 2).

"Right out of the gate, our team will need to be well prepared and focused to start the [conference] season," he said. "Conference USA is a strong conference and the matches will be very competitive every time we step on the floor. We expect our players to understand that they need to continue growing throughout the season. This is what good teams do."

LA Tech returns to the Thomas Assembly Center for two league matches Oct. 9 with contests scheduled between North Texas and UAB (Oct. 11) before returning the favor and traveling to Denton, Texas, to take on the Mean Green on Oct. 16 in what will be the start of a three-game road stretch at Southern Miss and FIU.

From Oct. 25 to Nov. 1, the Lady Techsters will host four straight home matches, three of which will be in C-USA play. After traveling to Houston last season, LA Tech welcomes Rice to the TAC to begin the home stretch before stepping out of conference play to take on I-20 foe Grambling State Oct. 27. Two matches against Middle Tennessee (Oct. 30) and Charlotte (Nov. 1) will wrap up the home stand for the Lady Techsters.

LA Tech will then embark on its final road trip of the campaign as the Lady Techsters travel to take on UTSA (Nov. 6) and UTEP (Nov. 8) before returning home to close out the regular season. The 2015 home slate culminates with matches against FIU on Nov. 12 and Florida Atlantic on Nov. 14 at the Thomas Assembly Center in Ruston.

THOMAS ASSEMBLY CENTER

The Thomas Assembly Center has been home to the Louisiana Tech Bulldog and Lady Techster basketball teams since it opened in November of 1982, but the 8,000-seat facility has also housed the Lady Techster volleyball program since the program's inception in 1987.

The Lady Techster volleyball team has called the Assembly Center home since 1987 as Tech has played nearly every season in the Thomas Assembly Center. The TAC has seen the Lady Techsters go on to seven separate winning seasons including a school best 29-10 season in 1992.

Now entering its third decade, the Techster volleyball program is led by third-year head coach Adriano de Souza.

Lady Techster legends such as Katie Dow Kahmann, Jamie Shanks, Courtney Ziegenbien, Sharla Richardson and even more recently in Christinne Sant'anna and Shannon Phillips have all called the Thomas Assembly Center home for their college careers.

Among C-USA's 5,000 student-athletes, there are champions off the playing field as well. The conference's current footprint is concentrated with 14 members in 10 states and a combined area population of more than 30 million. With a commitment to community involvement, the conference developed several initiatives to maintain strong ties in C-USA cities, as well as with fans and alumni across the country. C-USA schools also place a priority on giving back to their communities through volunteer service with local and national organizations. Individually, student-athletes are recognized each season through the Spirit of Service award.

GOVERNANCE

Conference USA has significant representation in the NCAA governance structure. The presidents of the member institutions serve as the league's Board of Directors.

2014 HIGHLIGHTS

REBECCA REDGEN NAMED SECOND TEAM ALL-CONFERENCE USA, ALL-LOUISIANA

After leading Louisiana Tech in almost every offensive category this season and ranking in the top five in the conference in kills and points, senior Rebecca Redgen was selected to the 2014 All-Conference USA volleyball team, which was voted on by the league coaches. Redgen was also selected to the 2014 All-Louisiana Volleyball team, which is voted on by members of the Louisiana Sports Writers Association.

Redgen, a native of Gladstone, Australia, earned second team honors after ranking fifth in C-USA in both kills and points, while also leading all Lady Techsters in kills (381), kills per set (3.74) and points (419.5). She becomes the first all-conference honoree for LA Tech since the 2009 season when the Lady Techsters were members of the Western Athletic Conference.

The senior outside hitter led LA Tech offensively in almost every single match this season, while recording a team-high eight double-doubles and double digit kills in 21 of the 30 matches she played in her final season as a Lady Techster.

Redgen played in all 102 sets for LA Tech in 2014 and was second on the team with 201 digs (1.97 per set) and 58 total blocks (0.57 per set) in addition to her impressive numbers on offense this season.

Earlier in the campaign, Redgen etched her name in the LA Tech record books after totaling a career-high 28 kills at Middle Tennessee, which ties her for fourth in program history for most kills in a single match.

McCLURE EARNS COMMISSIONER'S ACADEMIC MEDAL

Freshman defensive specialists Jacie McClure was one of 27 Louisiana Tech student-athletes and the lone Lady Techster that earned the prestigious Conference USA Commissioner's Academic Medal during the 2014-15 academic year.

Medals are given to those C-USA student-athletes who have achieved a cumulative GPA of 3.75 or better. The 27 student-athletes were also among the 123 from LA Tech named to the C-USA Academic Honor Roll.

SEVEN VOLLEYBALL PLAYERS NAMED TO C-USA COMMISSIONER'S HONOR ROLL

A total of 2,592 student-athletes earned recognition to the Conference USA Commissioner's Honor Roll during the 2014-15 academic year, including seven members of the Louisiana Tech Volleyball team.

Student-athletes named to the Commissioner's Honor Roll have maintained a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or better throughout the academic school year. Louisiana Tech placed a total of 124 student-athletes on the prestigious list.

The following is a complete list of the Commissioner's Honor Roll award winners for LA Tech Volleyball:

Danielle Bristow, Maria Coelho, Dalane Guidry, Jacie McClure, Rebecca Redgen, Brooke Short, Hannah Wright

REDGEN ETCHES NAME IN LA TECH VOLLEYBALL RECORD BOOK

Despite Rebecca Redgen exhausting her eligibility at the conclusion of last season, her performance on the court in her two years as a Lady Techster will not be forgotten any time soon.

On Oct. 5, 2014, Redgen totaled 28 kills on the road against the Blue Raiders of Middle Tennessee, which tied the Gladstone, Australia, native for fourth place all-time with five other LA Tech players.

After leading LA Tech in kills (381) and kills per set (3.74) throughout the entirety of the 2014 campaign, Redgen also moved into fourth place in program history with an average of 3.23 kills per set in her two-year career as a Lady Techster.

Louisiana Tech University and President Les Guice share a rich history together that spans five decades and has produced family ties that are deeply rooted in a passion for the Bulldogs and Lady Techsters. From an architecture student stepping on the campus for the first time in 1972 to an appointment as Louisiana Tech's 14th President in 2013, Dr. Guice has shown an unwavering commitment to leadership and service to his alma mater.

One of Dr. Guice's first achievements at Louisiana Tech was earning a bachelor of arts in architecture in 1976. Discovering a passion for engineering under the mentorship of Professor Jack Painter, Dr. Guice went on to earn a master's degree in civil engineering from Tech in 1978. While working on his master's degree, Dr. Guice also discovered a passion for teaching and education as a profession.

Dr. Guice accepted a position as an assistant professor of civil engineering at Louisiana Tech in 1978 and was promoted to associate professor in 1981. A few short years after earning his Ph.D. in civil engineering from Texas A&M University in 1986, Dr. Guice was named the interim department head of civil engineering in Louisiana Tech's College of Engineering in 1988 and earned the permanent department head position and full professorship in 1989. As department head, Dr. Guice initiated the formation of the Civil Engineering Advisory Board and the Civil Engineering Distinguished Alumni recognition program, both of which significantly enhanced alumni participation and significantly enhanced fund-raising for the department.

Throughout the next decade, Dr. Guice would continue to distinguish himself as an academician, researcher, administrator and leader. His dedication to his students, his faculty and the university would lead to his appointment as Dean of Louisiana Tech's College of Engineering and Science (COES) in 1999. As Dean, Dr. Guice continued to encourage and support innovations in the curricula. The College's faculty became increasingly successful in securing external funding for the integrated curriculum which resulted in a transformative redesign of curricula throughout the College.

Dr. Guice's leadership and vision also reinvigorated the Engineering and Science Foundation to more effectively serve the needs of the College. He initiated a new integrated strategic plan, known as "COES 2010," and capital campaign, "Tech's BEST," that led advancement of the college and to funding for an Eminent Scholar Chair, 15 Professorships, $500k Scholarship Fund, and several new laboratories and facilities.

Dr. Guice leadership also helped to guide the Institute for Micromanufacturing (IfM) toward a focus on the emerging field of nanotechnology. With the hiring of key nanotechnology faculty in numerous disciplines, further expansion of research laboratories, establishment of an interdisciplinary engineering PhD program with a nanotechnology track, and initiation of a B.S. in Nanosystems Engineering, the IfM and COES established strong research and education nanotechnology programs that have received national recognition.

In 2004, Dr. Guice's performance and accomplishments as dean of the College of Engineering and Science led to his appointment as Louisiana Tech's vice president for research and development. During his tenure as vice president and as executive vice president in 2012, Louisiana Tech has significantly increased patents, licenses/options, start-up companies, SBIR grants with affiliated companies, and has established strong industry partnerships for commercialization of technologies. Dr. Guice also led the establishment of Louisiana Tech's first two technology incubators, the Rawle and Humana Enterprise Centers.

With a focus on the future and a progressive vision for economic development, Dr. Guice has led the planning and development of the Louisiana Tech Enterprise Campus – a research park connecting the university and downtown Ruston. Enterprise Campus' first building, Tech Pointe, was completed in 2012 and is now home for several companies and organizations, including an Air Force funded Cyberspace Research Laboratory. With the recent completion of Louisiana Tech's new College of Business building and renovation to University Hall as a home for interdisciplinary entrepreneurship and innovation activities, the first phase of Enterprise Campus is nearing completion.

Dr. Guice's reputation for exemplary leadership has not been bound by the campus or the region. Roles in statewide leadership have included election to serve as the founding Chair for the Louisiana Optical Network Initiative (LONI) Management Council, serving as Chair of the Louisiana EPSCoR Committee, and leading the development of a statewide science and technology plan, called FIRST Louisiana. Dr. Guice currently serves as Chair of the Board of Regents Master Plan Research Advisory Council and as chair of the Louisiana Innovation Council.

Among the many awards and recognitions Dr. Guice has earned during his career is the Robert E. Russ Award from the Ruston/Lincoln Parish Chamber of Commerce (2009), Outstanding Civil Engineer from the ASCE Louisiana Section (2008), Louisiana Tech University Civil Engineering Distinguished Alumnus (2007), Louisiana Engineering Society's James M. Todd Technological Accomplishment Award (2007), Governor's University Technology Leader of the Year Award (2006), and Louisiana Engineering Society A.B. Patterson Medal for an Engineer in Management (2004.)

On December 4, 2012, during a special session of the University of Louisiana System Board of Supervisors, Dr. Guice was unanimously voted to serve as the 14th President of Louisiana Tech University. Dr. Guice officially took over as President on July 1, 2013.

As President of Louisiana Tech, Dr. Guice is the chief executive officer of north Louisiana's only Carnegie Foundation national research university and one of only two public universities from Louisiana recognized in the top tier of national universities by U.S. News and World Report. Dr. Guice leads a university that most recently has been ranked #11 in the nation in a list of "Most Underrated Colleges In America" (Business Insider), #17 in the nation in a list of "Low Cost Colleges with High Starting Salaries for Graduates" (Affordable Colleges Online), and #21 in the nation for providing its graduates with the best returns on their investments (AdvisorOne.)

Throughout his career, Dr. Guice has contributed to and played a central role in creating the culture and vision for the future of Louisiana Tech, and continues that commitment as President. Dr. Guice's focus on campus-wide engagement, building and growing relationships, and leadership in forging a path toward advancement of the university's academic and athletic programs, research and commercialization activities, and economic development efforts means that Louisiana Tech University's best days are yet to come.

Dr. Guice is a native of Monroe and grew up in Bastrop. He and his wife, Kathy, have three sons – Kyle, Chad, and Bret – one grandson, Christopher, and twin granddaughters, Elizabeth and Everly.

Louisiana Tech boasts one of the rising young stars in the industry in Athletics Director Tommy McClelland, who enters his third year in Ruston after an impressive debut.

McClelland joined the LA Tech Family when University President Les Guice introduced him as the new athletics director during a press conference at the Charles Wyly Athletic Center on July 16, 2013.

McClelland, the youngest AD among all Football Bowl Subdivision athletic programs, came to Ruston after serving six years in the same position at McNeese State in Lake Charles.

His first two years in north Louisiana have been successful ones. McClelland's philosophy of developing student-athletes into champions on the playing fields, in the class room and in life is the cornerstone of his leadership style.

While leading Louisiana Tech into the Conference USA era, McClelland impacted the athletics department through fundraising, facility improvements, coaching hires and overall student-athlete development.

Shortly after his hiring, McClelland re-energized the LA Tech fanbase when he joined President Guice in an October press conference revealing the updated plans for the $22 million Davison Athletics Complex located in the south endzone of Joe Aillet Stadium - the centerpiece of the University's Quest for Excellence capital campaign. McClelland completed the fundraising needed for the project, and the new facility opened in August of 2015.

The three-story facility, 70,000-plus square foot building benefits all of Louisiana Tech's student-athletes; it includes a new state-of-the-art strength and conditioning complex utilized by all 16 of the University's athletic programs. The building also houses football coaches' offices, football locker room, team and position meeting rooms, club seating and a multi-functional dining space that can be utilized for athletic and campus events. It will generate an additional $500,000 annually in revenue.

Another marquee addition to the Louisiana Tech athletic facilities during McClelland's tenure is the $1.2 million Paul Millsap Vision presented by Community Trust Bank, a high definition video display board in the Thomas Assembly Center. The project also included a customized sound system for the Thomas Assembly Center and a video board control room, which will be utilized for both football and basketball.

These two major facility improvements and additional smaller scale projects were made possible through a pair of record-setting years in fundraising. During the 2013-14 fiscal year, McClelland spearheaded the efforts in raising more than $10.8 million through both LTAC and Quest for Excellence; more than double any previous year in Tech Athletics history. Included in the record total were five, seven-figure gifts.

The 2014-15 fiscal year saw record totals in Louisiana Tech Athletic Club (LTAC) unrestricted donations – both in dollar figures and in total number of donors. It also included increases in ticket sales in football, men's and women's basketball.

Tech had plenty of success stories on the playing fields during the past two years, led by the Bulldog basketball team winning back-to-back Conference USA regular season titles and advancing into the NIT with impressive road wins over SEC foe Georgia (2014) and Texas A&M (2015). The Dunkin' Dawgs tied the program single season wins record (29) in 2014 and totaled 56 wins during the two year span.

On the gridiron, the Bulldog football team captured the Conference USA West Division title in 2014, recording a 9-5 overall record and barely falling to Marshall in the C-USA title game. Tech earned an invitation to the Heart of Dallas Bowl and promptly defeated Big 10 foe Illinois 35-18.

In addition to the men's basketball and football successes, the Lady Techster tennis team recorded one of its best seasons in program history, posting a 15-7 record and earning the No. 5 seed in the C-USA championships. First-year head coach Chad Camper earned the Louisiana Sports Writers Association Coach of the Year Award, and the Lady Techsters earned their first ever regional ranking, finishing seventh in the southern region of the final Intercollegiate Tennis Association rankings.

Tech sophomore Victor Lange became the first Bulldog golfer ever to earn an NCAA Regional appearance and competed in the San Antonio Region and Lubbock region the past two years.

McClelland also made some tough personnel decisions, making coaching changes in both women's basketball and baseball. McClelland made a national splash with the hiring of Tyler Summitt to lead the tradition-rich Lady Techster basketball program. Summitt, son of legendary Tennessee Lady Vols coach Pat Summitt, is the youngest head coach of any Division I women's basketball program. He brought instant national notoriety back to the program and led a senior-laden to a winning record in year No. 1 while beginning the process of changing the culture. Summitt and the Techsters were featured by national outlets such as CBS 60-Minute Sports, NBC Nightly News, USA Today, ESPN.com, ESPN SportsCenter, New York Times, Sports Illustrated and more.

He also hired one of the rising stars in college baseball in Greg Goff, a 21-year coaching veteran who recently led Campbell to its third straight 40-win season. The Camels joined LSU, Florida State, Oregon, Oregon State, Louisville, South Carolina and Rice as the only NCAA Division I baseball programs with at least 40 victories in each of the past three years. Goff led the program to this year's NCAA Regionals. In year No. 1 at Tech, Goff guided the Bulldogs to within one game of a .500 record, which was a 10-game improvement in the win column over the previous season.

Prior to coming to Ruston, McClelland made a national name for himself after quickly elevating to the athletics director position at age 26. He earned high praise from a number of high-profile, experienced athletic administrators.

"Tommy McClelland is an outstanding leader and one of the nation's rising stars in intercollegiate athletics," said Bubba Cunningham, athletics director at the University of North Carolina. "He has a demonstrated commitment to supporting and developing his coaches and student-athletes and has already become well-known among ADs for his leadership, vision and character. Tommy has also shown a dedication to lifelong learning and the application of his skills and talents to making his athletic programs better."

Prior to being named athletic director at McNeese State on March 19, 2008, McClelland served as interim athletic director and assistant athletic director of internal affairs at the university.

In his time at McNeese, McClelland and his staff had numerous success stories when it came to increased revenue streams and the overall game-day experience in Lake Charles. He raised more than $3 million in private donations, and he was instrumental in increasing corporate sponsorships to nearly $1 million, while securing new clients and multi-year sponsorships.

McClelland was also responsible for increasing football season ticket sales: the program eclipsed the 8,000 mark in 2008 with a high of 8,035 in 2009. In addition, he was instrumental in setting single-game attendance records in baseball, volleyball, softball, soccer, women's basketball and women's tennis.

"Tommy is a rising star in the college athletics administration field and, in my view, the ideal leader to advance Louisiana Tech's athletics program as it transitions into Conference USA," said Ian McCaw, athletics director at Baylor University. "He possesses impeccable integrity and has an extraordinary work ethic. Moreover, his interpersonal and relational skills are outstanding and will enable him to quickly connect with Bulldog fans as well as campus and community leaders."

One of McClelland's main goals was to improve the life of the student-athletes and increase the game-day experience for the McNeese State fan base. One of the most effective ways to accomplish these goals was by improving the facilities. During his time at McNeese State, he oversaw a combined total of over $11 million dollars in facility renovation and new construction.

The combination of increased revenue streams, renovations and new construction, and a highly-involved fan base led to plenty of success stories on the playing fields. During his tenure as athletic director, McNeese won Southland Conference championships in football (2007, 2009), soccer (2006, tournament; 2007, regular season), softball (2010, tournament; 2013, regular season), men's basketball (2011, regular season), women's basketball (2011, regular season; 2011 and 2012 tournament) and men's cross country (2012). The women's basketball program made its first appearances ever in the NCAA Tournament, and the men's basketball program hosted the first round of the NIT postseason tournament (Boston College live on ESPNU).

Even more impressive is the fact that while the Cowboy and Cowgirl programs were capturing titles on the fields, the University's student-athletes were making tremendous strides in the classroom. In five of McClelland's six years as athletics director, McNeese State led the Southland Conference in the number of student-athletes named to the Commissioner's Honor Roll.

In addition, McClelland guided the resurgence in APR success in Lake Charles. The number of athletic programs boasting the required APR score of 925 went from four in his first year to all 16 in his final year. The community service hours performed by the MSU student-athletes also tripled to more than 3,000 during his tenure.

"Tommy has a great knowledge of college athletics and excels at helping his student-athletes balance and succeed in their commitments to academics and athletics," said Warde Manuel, athletics director at the University of Connecticut. "Tommy has also proven his ability to work effectively with coaches and administrators to help his programs be successful."

McClelland earned his bachelor's degree from Northwestern State in 2004 and completed his master's degree in sports administration in 2005. He walked on with the Demons football team and eventually earned a scholarship; he also competed in the javelin for the NSU track and field team.

The native of Basile, Louisiana served as a graduate assistant at Northwestern State in athletics and also worked at the Southland Conference office as an administrative intern, assisting with championship events.

McClelland is also a 2012 graduate of the Executive Program of the Sports Management Institute and attended instruction at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill's Kenan-Flagler Business School and the University of Southern California's Marshall School of Business.

McClelland is married to the former Jessica Stokes of Garrison, Texas. They have two sons, Lawson (5) and Grayson (4).

Deputy Athletics Director and Senior Woman Administrator Mary Kay Hungate enters her 30th year as a member of the Louisiana Tech Athletics Department and has proven to be an integral part in the emergence of the University's programs on the playing fields and in the classroom.

Not only does Hungate serve as the sports administrator for softball, women's volleyball, men's and women's track and field, and women's bowling, but she is also in charge of NCAA compliance for all of the university's 16 NCAA sanctioned programs.

As one of the top two ranking administrators in the Tech Athletics Department, Hungate is part of a senior staff that was instrumental in helping the University earn an invitation to join Conference USA starting July 1, 2013.

Hungate serves a vital role in the hiring of head coaches. She served as the point person in the hiring process of head women's soccer coach Kevin Sherry. Sherry led the Lady Techster soccer team to four straight winning seasons (the first ones in program history), the program's first appearance in the WAC Tournament in 2010 and the program's first postseason win in the 2014 Conference USA Tournament. She has also been involved in the hiring of a number of other highly successful coaches, including current Lady Techster basketball coach Tyler Summitt, son of legendary Tennessee coach Pat Summitt.

Another of Hungate's responsibilities includes overseeing the academic side of the Tech athletics department, another area which has improved drastically as proven by the fact LA Tech's graduation rate continues to be one of the highest in the state (Federal Graduation Report).

Louisiana Tech's student-athletes continue to reach academic progress superlatives. For the seventh straight year the University recorded all-time highs in the most recent Federal Graduation Rate Report released by the NCAA last October. Tech's student-athletes recorded a Graduation Success Rate (GSR) of 81 percent and a Federal Graduation Rate (FGR) of 60 percent, which both were improvements over last year's numbers.

Louisiana Tech's 81 percent graduation success rate ranks as the second highest in the state among Division I football-playing public institutions. LA Tech's graduation success rate is one percentage points higher than last year's (80) and easily outdistances the state average of 69 percent among the other nine Division I football-playing public institutions in the state of Louisiana.

Tech also recorded the second highest federal graduation rate of any Division I football-playing public institution in the state at 60 percent, which also bests last year's mark of 59 percent.

The success of Louisiana Tech's student-athletes in the classroom was across the board as 14 of the 16 Division I sanctioned athletic programs recorded at least a 70 percent GSR led by men's golf, women's basketball and women's tennis with 100 percent scores. The Lady Techster basketball team's GSR ranked first in the state (tied with Tulane and Centenary) and first in C-USA (tied with Rice and Middle Tennessee).

One of the most impressive numbers in comparison to program's across the country was posted by the Bulldog football team which recorded a 77 percent GSR, which ranks first in the state of Louisiana among public institutions and fourth among all Conference USA programs (behind only Rice, UTSA and Middle Tennessee).

Hungate also plays an important role in LA Tech's NCAA Certification process. As a member of the Steering Committee and the liaison between the athletic department and the University's Self Study Committees, she provides the information needed for the committees to write their reports.

In addition, Hungate and the current senior staff have also garnered a number of national awards, including the 2010 Turnkey PRISM Award - which recognizes colleges for managerial excellence across four areas: marketing/branding; fan development; community relations; and customer/client service.

The Tech athletics department also finished in the Top 10 three times in the Excellence in Management Cup, which recognizes the most efficient athletic departments in the nation.

Hungate joined the Louisiana Tech staff in 1985 as an assistant women's basketball coach and remained in that role for five years. During that time, the Lady Techsters participated in four Final Fours and won the NCAA National Championship in 1988.

In 1990, Hungate made a move out of coaching and became assistant athletics director for academics and compliance as well as senior woman administrator. One of Hungate's early accomplishments as assistant director of athletics was the creation of the Louisiana Tech Athletic Academic Center program.

Hungate has served terms on the NCAA Division I Academics/Eligibility/Compliance Cabinet, the NCAA Division I Interpretations/Legislative Review Subcommittee, the National Association of Collegiate Women Athletics Administrators Wade Trophy Selection Committee and as an NCAA Peer Reviewer. She has also served on the NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Issues Committee since 2004.

She served on the Western Athletic Conference Council, the Conferences' Legislative Review Committee, the Finance Committee and the Code Book Committee. In addition, along with Athletics Director Tommy McClelland, she represents the athletics department as an ex-officio member of the LA Tech Athletics Council.

Hungate's professional career began as Women's Sports Coordinator and head volleyball, head basketball and head softball coach at Illinois' Carl Sandburg Junior College. She spent four seasons at the college where she guided the basketball team to a mark of 80-22 which included an 11th place finish in the 1976 NJCAA national tournament.

In 1978 Hungate took over the head coaching position at Richwoods High School in Peoria, Ill., and quickly compiled one of the top prep coaching records in the nation.

During her seven seasons at Richwoods High School, Hungate's team ran up an impressive record of 195-13, including a state-record 63 consecutive victories. Hungate was named the National Coach of the Year by USA Today in 1985. Before coming to Louisiana Tech, Hungate amassed a career coaching record of 275-35.

Marco Born enters his second year as a member of the Louisiana Tech senior athletics staff, joining the University in August of 2014 as the senior associate athletics director in charge of external operations.

Born comes to Ruston after spending the past 10 years at Middle Tennessee as a student-athlete and administrator. In his new position at Louisiana Tech, Born oversees external operations, including ticketing and marketing while serving as the liaison with LA Tech Sports Properties and Aspire. He is heavily involved in athletic fundraising while also serving on the athletics senior staff and as the sport administrator for baseball.

During his first year in Ruston, Born was instrumental in coordinating the sales of the 302-seat club level in the Davison Athletics Complex which will generate more than $500,000 annually. The club level seats sold out more than three months prior to the completion of the project.

Born was also a part of a fundraising team that saw $1,150,000 donated to the Louisiana Tech Athletic Club (LTAC) by more than 1,100 donors while a total of $1.5 million unrestricted dollars were donated. These surpassed the previous records of 1,055 donors as 215 individuals made their first ever gift to LTAC this past year. LTAC membership also increased by 17 percent and revenue increased by 30 percent.

Overall ticket sales also increased. men's basketball revenue increased by 73 percent while women's basketball increased by 50 percent.

Born has served on the athletics staff at Middle Tennessee since June of 2007, including stints as associate athletics director and assistant athletics director for ticketing and marketing. During his time on the senior administrative staff in Murfreesboro, Born handled all internal and external duties with oversight of marketing, ticketing, Aspire and Learfield partners. He served on the senior staff for five years and was heavily involved in the school's transition to Conference USA.

He was instrumental in facilitating ticket sales efforts for sellout crowds of the Murphy Center for both men's and women's basketball as well as the three largest crowds in Floyd Stadium history for football, including the first ever sellout in 2011 against Georgia Tech. Women's basketball attendance consistently ranked in the top 30 nationally ever year. Born also oversaw the $11 million renovation to the Murphy Center and a $1.4 million turf replacement at Floyd Stadium.

During his time as a student-athlete at Middle Tennessee, Born was a three-year varsity letter-winner for the Blue Raiders tennis program where he captured the 2005 ITA Division I All-American championship and the 2007 NCAA Division I Doubles championship. He was a two-time ITA Division I All-American, a 3-time All-Sun Belt Conference selection and a member of the 2007 ITA Collegiate All-Star team.

Off the courts, he was named to the Academic Honor Roll twice while serving on the Student-Athlete Advisory Council. He was nominated for the Sun Belt Conference's Sporting Behavior Award and the NCAA Today's Top VIII Award. He has served in the past as a member of the Sun Belt Conference Fellows Program, the ITA Steering Committee and the NCAA Men's and Women's Tennis Committee.

Born earned his bachelor's degree in business administration from Middle Tennessee in 2007 and his master's in sports management in 2009. He completed the Sports Management Institute Executive Program from the University of Michigan and University of Texas in 2013.

He is married to the former Emily Vest, a former Division I tennis player at Middle Tennessee, and the couple has a 3-year-old daughter named Scarlett Elizabeth.

Malcolm Butler begins his 17th year in the Louisiana Tech Athletics Department, his ninth as the associate athletic director in charge of communications.

A 1994 graduate of the Louisiana Tech journalism department, Butler joined the athletic department in July of 1999 as the assistant athletic media relations director. Butler was then promoted to director four months later and served in that capacity until the fall of 2007 when he was promoted to associate athletic director.

He has also worked closely with a number of highly-successful head coaches, including 4-time Hall of Famer Leon Barmore, current Dallas Cowboys wide receiver coach Derek Dooley and current Lady Techster women's basketball coach Tyler Summitt, son of legendary Tennessee coach Pat Summitt.

Over the course of his tenure, Louisiana Tech's Athletic Communications Department has proven to be one of the most successful in the state. Over the past 14 years, members of the department have won a total of 60 awards at the annual Louisiana Sports Writers Association (LSWA) SID contest, the second most behind only LSU.

During that same period of time, Butler has personally garnered 31 awards, tried for most among all state SIDs with LSU Associate Athletics Director Michael Bonnette.

Butler is part of a senior staff at LA Tech that has been instrumental in garnering a number of national awards, including the 2010 Turnkey PRISM Award - which recognizes colleges for managerial excellence across four areas: marketing/branding; fan development; community relations; and customer/client service.

The Tech athletics department also finished in the Top 10 three times in the Excellence in Management Cup, which recognizes the most efficient athletic departments in the nation. He was instrumental in forming the partnership between Louisiana Tech and CBS Interactive in the fall of 2007, including the redesign and hosting of the athletic departments website, LATechSports.com.

Butler has served as the host media coordinator for three NCAA Women's Basketball First- and Second-Round sites hosted by Louisiana Tech (2000, 2001 and 2003) while also serving as the host media coordinator for the 2008 WAC Baseball Championships and the 2013 WAC

Softball Championships hosted by Louisiana Tech.

In addition to his media relations responsibilities, Butler serves as the radio play-by-play voice for the nationally-prominent Louisiana Tech Lady Techster basketball team. Butler has broadcast more than 500 women's basketball games, including 15 NCAA Tournament games, during his 15 years behind the mic. He finished second in the Louisiana Sports Writers Association College Radio Play by Play category in 2013 and third place in 2015.

He has also broadcast in excess of 250 softball games, including four in the 2008 NCAA Tournament, and served as the color commentator on numerous Bulldog football and basketball broadcasts. He served as the sideline reporter for the Bulldog football broadcasts the past two seasons. Butler joins Dave Nitz as the co-hosts of Inside Tech Basketball, an hour-long coach's radio show during the winter.

Butler implemented a fundraising campaign for his department in the fall of 2007 and since that time it has raised over $45,000, which has been used to purchase additional equipment, software and other essentials within the media relations department.

He is a member of the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA), Louisiana Sports Writers Association (LSWA), United States Basketball Writers Association (USBWA) and Football Writers Association of America (FWAA). He is also a proxy voter for the Louisiana Sports Hall of Fame committee.

Marie Gilbert enters her 30th year at Louisiana Tech and her seventh as associate athletics director and chief financial officer in the athletics department.

Gilbert is responsible for the day-to-day business operations of the athletic department, including overseeing the individual budgets for 16 varsity sports, monitoring athletic funds of the Louisiana Tech Athletic Foundation, serving as liaison with the university's business offices and supervising the athletic ticket office.

She is part of a senior staff at LA Tech that was instrumental in the University's invitation to join Conference USA starting July 1. She has also been actively involved in numerous initiatives to enhance the athletics department, including signing new agreements with companies such as Learfield, the Aspire Group, Ticketmaster, A-G Administrators, Pepsi and ACS Athletics. She is the sports administrator for men's golf.

The hard work and vision of that same senior staff has led to numerous national awards, including the 2010 Turnkey PRISM Award - which recognizes colleges for managerial excellence across four areas: marketing/branding; fan development; community relations; and customer/client service.

The Tech Athletics Department has also finished in the Top 10 three times in the Excellence in Management Cup, which recognizes the most efficient athletic departments in the nation. Gilbert previously served as the budget manager for the College of Engineering for six years where she had similar duties. She was also in the College of Liberal Arts as the dean's assistant handling day-to-day business in the office while working with budget planning for the year.

In 2002, she received the Distinctive Professional Performance and Conduct Award from the Institute of Micro-manufacturing at Louisiana Tech.

Gilbert has earned two degrees from Louisiana Tech University and completed a master's certificate in technical writing.

She is a current member of the National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators (NACMA) and the College Athletic Business Management Association (CABMA). This is her second year to serve on the program planning committee for CABMA.

She is also actively involved in the American Cancer Society and serves as the chair for the Relay for Life Luminaria Service. She is on the Executive Committee for the ACS Relay for Life in Lincoln Parish.

Gilbert and her husband, Tim, reside in Bossier with their four dogs.

Adam McGuirt enters his third year as the associate athletics director for internal operations after serving more than six years as the director of athletic advancement in the Division of University Advancement.

McGuirt's role includes the oversight of facilities, event management and all capital improvements within the athletic department. He assists in the scheduling, supervision and administration of all athletic facilities while also maintaining relationships with campus constituents, campus security, visiting groups and outside organizations.

He is also a member of Athletic Director Tommy McClelland's senior staff and serves as the sports supervisor for women's soccer.

During the past 16 months, one of his main responsibilities has been the oversight of the construction of the $22 million Davison Athletics Complex in the south end zone at Joe Aillet Stadium. Construction on the 70,000-plus square foot, three-story building began in April of 2014 and is scheduled to be operational by August, 2015.

McGuirt has also overseen the complete renovations of the women's basketball locker room since the hiring of new head coach Tyler Summitt. He is also managing multiple field upgrades at baseball, softball and soccer.

During his previous role in athletic advancement, McGuirt was responsible for all areas of athletic development, including donor relations and all aspects of the Louisiana Tech Athletic Club (LTAC).

McGuirt was instrumental in helping more than double the number of LTAC members which resulted in a large increase in private donations.

McGuirt also worked closely with the Louisiana Tech Alumni Association in the development and implementation of events for alumni and friends throughout the state of Louisiana and surrounding areas.

McGuirt has been a part of a staff at LA Tech that helped the University garner an invitation to join Conference USA, a membership which began July 1, 2013. That same staff has been instrumental in garnering a number of national awards, including the 2010 Turnkey PRISM Award - which recognizes colleges for managerial excellence across four areas: marketing/branding; fan development; community relations; and customer/client service.

The Tech Athletics Department also finished in the Top 10 three times in the Excellence in Management Cup, which recognizes the most efficient athletic departments in the nation. A native of Shreveport, McGuirt graduated from Louisiana Tech in 2003 with a bachelor's degree in business administration.

McGuirt is married to April, and the couple has three daughters: Lily, Sophie and Emily.

Nate Warren enters his second year with the Louisiana Tech Family as the assistant athletic director for development where he oversees the fundraising efforts for the athletic department.

His responsibilities at Louisiana Tech include identifying and securing private support with an emphasis on major gifts, cultivating and soliciting leadership giving societies, providing oversight for the Louisiana Tech Athletic Club, the Lettermen's Club and the Director of LTAC.

During his first year in Ruston, Warren was instrumental in coordinating the sales of the 302-seat club level in the Davison Athletics Complex which will generate more than $500,000 annually. The club level seats sold out more than three months prior to the completion of the project.

Warren was also a part of a fundraising team that saw $1,150,000 donated to the Louisiana Tech Athletic Club (LTAC) by more than 1,100 donors while a total of $1.5 million unrestricted dollars were donated. These surpassed the previous records of 1,055 donors as 215 individuals made their first ever gift to LTAC this past year. LTAC membership also increased by 17 percent and revenue increased by 30 percent.

A University of Tennessee and Kansas State alum, Warren comes to Ruston after serving as the assistant director for development at K-State for the past two-plus years.

During Warren's four-plus years at Kansas State which included two years as a graduate assistant, he helped oversee the Ahearn Fund which experienced unprecedented growth from 5,454 members and $12.7 million in gifts to athletics when he arrived to 9,143 members and $25.8 million in gifts to athletics in fiscal year 2012.

Much of the growth in the Ahearn Fund numbers was due to the increased focus on leadership annual giving of $10,000 and above, as well as increased focus in Kansas City, Kansas State's largest alumni base.

In his role as assistant director of development, he oversaw an active portfolio of over 150 Ahearn Fund members and prospects, primarily in Kansas City. In addition to his duties in Kansas City, he oversaw membership campaigns and special events, both in the Kansas City area and on campus for returning letter winners.

Warren was also actively involved in fund raising for the West Stadium Center, the largest capital project in Kansas State University history both through philanthropic capital gifts and premium seat construction gifts.

Warren earned his bachelor's degree from Tennessee in sports management in 2008 while he completed his master's degree in education administration and leadership from Kansas State in 2011.

Anna Claire Thomas begins his fourth year as an assistant media relations director in the Louisiana Tech Media Relations Department. She is the primary sports information director for baseball, women's volleyball and women's bowling, while also serving as the secondary contact for football.

In 2014, Thomas picked up a first place award in the Best Fact Sheet category with her Bulldog Baseball game notes, while also placing third with her baseball media guide at the annual Louisiana Sports Writers Association SID contest. In 2015, she earned a second place award for her Bulldog Baseball game notes in the Best Fact Sheet category, one year after finishing in first place in the same category.

In addition to Thomas' day-to-day activities, other responsibilities also include keeping track of game notes and social media for LA Tech's record-setting football team as well as writing feature stories for the game day programs.

As a student at LA Tech, Thomas served as the sports editor for The Tech Talk over the course of two years and served as editor-in-chief for the school newspaper. She also was a student intern for the Louisiana Tech Athletic Multimedia Department for three years specializing in video productions for LA Tech All-Access.

In her time as the school newspaper's sports editor, Thomas was named Best Sports Columnist and Best Sports Writer by the Society of Professional Journalists (Region 12) and Louisiana Press Women, respectively.

The Monroe native graduated from Louisiana Tech in the fall of 2012 with a bachelor's degree in journalism and a minor in marketing.
